COLLECTION REPORT autumn | winter 2011

ppep. is a modern casual collection in the premium segment. It is connecting sportive classic and simplicity in a modern interpretation. Natural materials and a fine workmanship are elements for plain styles which are rich in details.

For the dapper-sporty customer PPEP offers a compact, diverse range of casual clothing with perfect fit, great comfort and feel-good character for fall | winter 2011.

The colour mood of the collection is reserved in grey, brown, camel, midnight blue and olive grey with subtle points of light in red, berry and light blue.

The casual styles are spiced up with young, romantically-inspired details such as ruffles, gathers, pleats, flower ribbons or lace. This feminine details are used carefully in order not to appear cluttered.

Jersey jackets with military influences and corduroy and wool jackets are combined with patterned blouses and printed jersey qualities.

A hot tip for cold days are elaborate, padded, technical outdoor jackets with fine details or sporty classics like the Duffle- or Caban-jacket in high-quality wool fabrics, and last but not least elegant fake lambskin jackets.
